OLD LANDMARK BEING TORN DOWN ON THE DIVIDE

The historic Combellick stables on the Divide, which were formerly the Mecca of the teamsters in the early days, is being torn down, its usefulness as quarters for stable purposes having long since departed.

The tearing down of the large frame structure, one of the largest on the hill, removes a landmark in that section, there being few left in that locality at present. One by one the connecting links with the pioneer days disappear.—Virginia City Chronicle.

If you bought nothing but advertised goods during the next twelve months, you'd reduce the cost and raise the standard of living—surprisingly!

PETER SCHNELLER, FROM TONOPAH, SAVED BY GOLDFIELD OFFICERS FROM THE HANDS OF A MOB

If the crowd of a hundred men who surrounded a house next to the Santa Fe club at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon could have laid hands on Peter Schneller, who arrived here ten days ago from Tonopah, Schneller's body would have been hanging to a telegraph pole, says the Goldfield Tribune. The cleverness with which the sheriff's officers snatched Schneller out of the house and the speed with which Chauffeur Donnelly of the Brown-Parker Auto company got the prisoner to the county jail were the two things that saved the man from an angry mob.

Schneller on his arrival here was met on the street by John Judnick, who used to know him well seven years ago in Montana. Judnick insisted on taking him to his Pearl street home and introducing him to his family. Yesterday afternoon Schneller entered the Judnick home and, finding Mrs. Judnick alone with her three little children, attacked her. She fought with him and finally drove him outside. It was twenty minutes later that Judnick came home from his work at the mine. His weeping wife told him about Schneller and Judnick grasped a rifle and ran out.

Schneller was seated on the fence next to the Santa Fe club. Judnick did not wait a moment but opened fire and Schneller ran into the house that was nearest. A mob quickly gathered and surrounded the place, determined to lynch the fugitive. Just then Under Sheriff Mercer with Deputy Sheriff Bogard arrived in a taxicab and entered the house. Schneller was cornered under the bed in one of the rooms, with the door locked. Mercer climbed up outside, holding Judnick, who was demanding a chance to kill Schneller, while Bogard stood at the door. Hearing the noise at the window, Schneller crawled out and turned to the door, which he opened, to fall into the hands of Bogard.

Schneller was hustled into the automobile by Mercer and Bogard, just as the crowd learned that he had been caught. The machine got started as the crowd bore down on it and there was a race up Fifth avenue, but the automobile with Donnelly at the wheel got to the jail in safety.

The prisoner is suspected of another similar crime, and a woman called at the district attorney's office this morning with the facts. An effort will be made to trace Schneller's movements while in camp, to corroborate the story told of an attack said to have been made by him last week.

"When I invest in a wagon I buy a Studebaker, then it's a safe investment"

Of course it is! Studebaker wagons are built on honor, with sixty years of wagon-building experience—and with every wagon goes a Studebaker guarantee.

You can't afford to have a dealer sell you some other wagon represented to be "just as good."

If you want a wagon that will last, run easily and stand up to its work, there is only one wagon to buy—and that's a Studebaker.

Don't trade ten extra years of service for a few dollars difference in price.

Studebaker wagons are made to fit every requirement of business or pleasure, in city, town or country.
